

OTTAWA CITIZEN

Home News Opinion Business Sports Arts Life Technology Travel Health Jobs C

Ottawa Citizen > Blogs > Arts

Ottawa gets Spanish filmfest first, the U.S. can wait

August 31, 2011. 10:23 am • Section: Arts, Festivals

0

0

0

0

AA Increase Font Size

Print Page

RSS Feed

Posted by:
The Big Beat

RECENT POSTS FROM THIS AUTHOR

Something fierce makes Canada Reads interesting, for once (and the contentious author Carmen Aguirre, is now in Ottawa)

Posted on Feb 8, 2012

The Clock, or, How I watched a movie for 24 hours and lived to write about it

Posted on Feb 8, 2012

Madonna to play Ottawa

Posted on Feb 7, 2012

Selling art online – does

The Festival of New Spanish Cinema will travel to 10 cities throughout the United States, but it begins Thursday, Sept. 1 in Ottawa.

Over four days at Library and Archives Canada on Wellington see seven current films from Spain, including Lope, With Or Without Love, Half of Oscar, For 80 Days, Lovestorming, The Great Vazquez and Kidnapped.

The films run the field from romance to musical comedy to drama to thriller, and it all continues until Sunday evening. See the full schedule at the Canadian Film Institute.

